REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

In independent claim 4, "when two or more minor groups obtained from the server are designed as laundry, the terminal device controller obtains from the server an operation control program for the laundry apparatus in consideration of the two or more selected minor groups thereby to transfer the obtained operation control program to the laundry apparatus", in combination with the other claimed elements and features is not taught nor fairly suggested by the prior art of record.

In independent claim 7, herein when an "atopy care" course has been selected as the laundry constraint, the terminal device controller obtains from the server the operation control program taking the selected laundry constraint into account, transferring the obtained operation control program to the laundry apparatus", in combination with the other claimed elements and features is not taught nor fairly suggested by the prior art of record.

In independent claim 13, "wherein when the operation panel of the laundry apparatus has been operated so that contents of the operation control program have been changed, the laundry apparatus controller transfers the changed contents of the operation control program to the terminal controller and displays the changed contents of the operation control program on the display panel", in combination with the other claimed elements and features is not taught nor fairly suggested by the prior art of record.

Note: The above reasons for allowance from the previous notice of allowance office action stands.

2. New cited IDS art of record

JP 2002-07836 discloses home appliances on a network which downloads programming to devices on network.

JP 2002-011275 discloses electric apparatus with display LCD with guidance information concerning operation and abnormality information.
